

The Humpty Dumpty Love Song

Travis

All of the King's horses and all of the King's men couldn't put my heart back together again
All of the physicians and mathmeticians, too couldn't stop my heart from breaking in two

'Cause all I need is you. I just need you.
Yeah you got the glue. I give my heart to you.

I had a premonition, a movie in my mind confirming my suspicions of what I would find It followed me to LA, down to Mexico, came in through the back door at the start of the show.

'Cause all I need is you. I just need you.
Yeah you got me blue. I give my heart to you.

It was a perfect day
and a perfect way
You know something had to go
You left me high, you left me low

And as I lie in pieces, I wait for your return the sun upon my forehead burns baby burns (baby burns baby burn s)
An eye on all my horses, you slept with all my men Never gonna get it together again

'Cause all I need is you. I just need you.
Yeah you got the glue. I give my heart to you.
Yeah you got the glue. There's nothing I can do.
Yeah you got the glue. I give my heart to you
