Warning Sign

In the middle of the night I hear you Talking in your sleep the same old story All I know it's not me, you've been talking to All the wishes, all the joy and wonder Sleeping with the fishes six feet under All I want Can't be done, Locked without a key Ohhh, where you going now?

Don't let your heart run out on me Don't set the horses free We never laid it on the line No time No warning sign

In the middle of the day I find you Turning round the tables and turning Off your mind in rewind You can't find a silent night All the paper lying on the ground Burning pages and those spinning heads Is something wrong In their lives? We need paradise Oohh, where you going wrong?

Don't let your heart run out on me Don't set the horses free We never laid it on the line No time No warning sign

Where you going wrong? Where you going wrong? Where you going wrong? Where you going wrong?

Where you going wrong? Where you going wrong? Where you going wrong? Where you going?

Don't let your heart run out on me Don't set the horses free We never laid it on the line No time No warning sign No warning sign
