American Psycho

Treble Charger

What's the problem with the human race With someone like you No matter where I turn I can't escape your double face Don't want to listen to the radio Cause they don't know Or stick around just to hear I told you so How could we make it without you I should have known better to doubt you I thought I'd heard the end of it

And now I know how far you'd go To be the next freak show American psycho Cover of the magazines Patron Saint to troubled teens Wish I never heard your name

Tomorrow could be just another day Means nothing to you A misdemeanor or a felony, that's ok Don't want to wait for a second chance So take a stance It's your turn for the spotlight, the big dance How could we make it without you I should have known better to doubt you I thought I'd heard the end of it

And now I know how far you'd go To be the next freak show American psycho Cover of the magazines Patron Saint to troubled teens Wish I never heard your name

They all want to know What I already know

What am I supposed to do When you know that it's all true That you stole, that you lied That you knew

Primadonna self absorbed Wide awake and never bored Party binge and purge, And see results of plastic surgery Spotted at the hottest shows Interview on Charlie Rose They all want a piece of you

And now I know how far you'd go To be the next freak show American psycho Cover of the magazines Patron Saint to troubled teens Wish I never heard your name They all want to know How far you had to go and I already know How far you had to go!
