

What Can I Say To Change Your Heart

Trembling Blue Stars

What can I say to change your heart?
To make you want us once more?
To stop you throwing aside
What will always be the love of our lives?
Never thought we'd come to this
The two of us not talking
That we'd make the journey made
Travel from closeness to silence, to silence
What can I say to change your heart?
To make you want us once more?
To stop you throwing aside
What will always be the love of our lives?
I want the you who used to die
At any separation
And I feel so left behind
And so alone in doing the dying, the dying
What can I say to change your heart?
