

All That I Got

Tremonti

Waiting to steal
How weakness unveils the ideal
The fight to hold on
When they could take it all along

And I should have known better
Should have trusted no one
Should have learned that lesson
Now I feel I'm done

Suddenly it's all that I got
And in time, I'll tear it apart
Suddenly it's all that I see
And this time, it surely will leave

Weighing me down
I failed to reach the higher ground
I'm hopeless to see
When all is taken anyways

And I should have known better
Should have trusted no one
Should have learned that lesson
Oh what have I done

Suddenly it's all that I got
And in time, I'll tear it apart
Suddenly it's all that I see
And this time, it surely will leave

Suddenly it's all that I got
And in time, I'll tear it apart
Suddenly it's all that I see
And this time, it surely will leave

Suddenly it's all that I got
And in time, I'll tear it apart
Suddenly it's all that I see
And this time, it surely will leave
