

Doesn't Matter

Tremonti

Oh, though I wait
Like all the times before
How I wait to make it right
I'm forgiving
Oh, that's right because I'm living another life

Inside the hate is gone
I've held it for too long
You could be right
But it doesn't matter
This time the burden's gone
Decided went to love
You could be right
But it doesn't matter

Oh, how I've won and set it right
Because I've become, become upright
But oh, how I break
Might return once again to my old ways
But how I fight

Inside the hate is gone
I've held it for too long
You could be right
But it doesn't matter
This time the burden's gone
Decided went to love
You could be right
But it doesn't matter

Oh

Inside the hate is gone
I've held it for too long
You could be right
But it doesn't matter
This time the burden's gone
Decided went to love
You could be right
But it doesn't matter
