

Rising Storm

Tremonti

They waste the time that has come today
Blame on, a chance that a fight is born
Some still believe there's a time to kill
Walk proud, you're a believer now

Hunt down to the last
All that we find within our path
And I, know that they will break before long
Force them to their legs,
This time we've taken everything and I
Know that they will bleed before long

Our wars, same as they were before
Force feed, fight till they all believe
Take sides, bury them all alive
Lay to waste, everything in our wake

Hunt down to the last
All that we find within our path
And I, know that they will break before long
Force them to their legs
This time we've taken everything and I
Know that they will bleed before long

Lay to waste
Lay to waste

Hunt down to the last
All that we find within our path
And I, know that they will break before long
Force them to their legs
This time we've taken everything and I
Know that they will bleed before long
