

Counting Sleep

Trent Dabbs

Maybe it's just me
Lately I've been counting sleep
I had a little talk with time
Till it turned its back on me

And I can't unwind
I can't unwind

Tell me everything it's on my mind
I'll fall in line again
Tell me everything will be alright
I'm worried about nothing
Tell me everything it's on my mind
I'll fall in line again
Is it me?
'Cause these days I've been counting sleep
These days I've been counting sleep

Sitting in this room
Wondering how to carry you
And all the voices they said
Just to uncheck tonight

So I figured out
When trying is done

Tell me everything it's on my mind
I'll fall in line again
Tell me everything will be alright
You're worried about nothing
Tell me everything will be alright
I'll fall in line again
Is it me? These days I've been counting sleep
These days I've been counting sleep

Find out the wrong and make it right
Well tell me if you're afraid of the side by side
Yeah side by side

Tell me everything it's on my mind
I'll fall in line again
Tell me everything will be alright
You're worried about nothing
Tell me everything that's on my mind
I'll fall in line again
'Cause these days,
These days, I've been counting sleep
These days I've been counting sleep
These days I've been counting
