

Your Side Now

Trent Dabbs

There you are behind the velvet curtain
I am waiting outside
Give me a signal, let me know if it's working
Everything that I try
'Cause it's a long drive home
It's a long drive alone
Don't hide
Let me see it from your side now
It's alright
Let me see it from your side now
All the talking as the night just follows
All the leaves to the ground
Moving closer to the perfect moment
And I can still hear the sound
Of a good love gone on a long drive home
Don't hide
Let me see it from your side now
It's alright
Let me see it from your side now
Something happened while your heart was breaking
You forgot how to trust
And I'm just saying, please believe in something
Start believing in us
Don't hide
Let me see it from your side now
It's alright
I can see it from your side now
Don't hide
Let me see it from your side now
It's alright
Let me see it from your side now
