Lie In The Sound

Trespassers William

I love you more than I should So much more than is good for me More than is good

Oh the timing is cruel
Oh I need and don't want to need
More than I should

I am falling, say my name And I'll lie in the sound What is love, but whatever My heart needs around

Oh my sheet is so thin So I say I can't sleep because It's so very cold

Oh but I know what I need
And if you were just near to me
Would you go

I am falling, say my name And I'll lie in the sound What is love, but whatever My heart needs around

I am falling, say my name And I'll lie in the sound What is love, but whatever My heart needs around

And it needs you too much now
