Twisted and bent out of shape
We might need a change of direction
It's all depending, I have it worked out
My brothers are about for some action

Back against the wall Face all ... to fall Ain't it strange how the other half live? Ain't it strange how the other half live?

Quit condescending, its driving me mad Like you're looking for some kind of reaction No mediocrity with the circus in town Like you're waiting for the crowd to break open

Back against the wall Face all ... to fall Ain't it strange how the other half live? Ain't it strange how the other half live?

Give it, give it, give it You gotta give it some time You gotta give it some time Before you try to give up

Give it, give it, give it You gotta give it some time You gotta give it some time Before you try to give up

Give it, give it, give it You gotta give it some time You gotta give it some time Before you try to give up

Give it, give it, give it You gotta give it some time You gotta give it some time Before you try to give up
