

The Means

Tribuzy

Tears tear the world
Changing hope for blood
All childhood dreams were left behind us
A new wierd world is now seen
A great shame for all humanity
A new life was born tonight
But what should he live for?
All mistakes were already done
We live our lives sun after sun
We need to make our parts
To make our lives worthwhile...

Chorus:

We are the chain of the changes
We cannot begin at the end
Teach me the means
To change my future
Teach to me... and the world

All the time spent in vain
While the world dives into pain
We should bring some hope
We should give more love
