

Drivin'

Triggerfinger

black asphalt road, mile after mile gotta stop for gas in a little while i'm driving the highway ? afternoon the intercity route that will take me to you and i'm driving all night and i'm driving all day yes i'm driving all night to get to you babe the raw ? of the ending is monotone the darkened highway, lonely lone black yellow stripes beneath my car lead me through the dark like a neverending scar

and there's elvis singing on the radio
