

Let It Ride

Triggerfinger

Never thought I'd be your back door man I sort of thought I'd hold the front but then The perfect balance baby A certain twist of mind A tempting hint something I might find

Never thought you'd wind me up again I sort of thought I'd sprung the clock but then The perfect moment baby A taste of fantasy Will flood the gates with all your mystery

Just for tonight baby Just let it ride baby Whatever you hide Whatever you hide baby Just for tonight baby Just let it ride

You spill your smile and then you drag your tail Playing hide and seek on a very different scale The perfect balance baby Between the touch and go You're still my favorite mental rodeo

Just for tonight baby Just let it ride baby Whatever you hide Whatever you hide baby Just for tonight baby Just let it ride