

All That And More

Trijntje Oosterhuis

Why, someone has stolen your heart
Something she is, that I'm not
But I believe, I belong with you
Like I always knew I care
She can't compare
Though she may try to disguise
I see by the look in her eyes
That

I will love you more than that
I'd give you love like you've never had
Lay down my life for you like that
With all my heart
When you think of love worth dying for
I'll be all that and more

Hey, Are you caught between your body and soul
Or is it that you don't wanna know
Truth has revealed there's a chance for us
She ain't good enough
We both know
You cannot deny
How much you're longing for me
One day you'll wake up and see
That

I will love you more than that
I'd give you love like you've never had
Lay down my life for you like that
With all my heart
When you think of love worth dying for
I'll be all that and more

I will love you more, I'll give you all you never had before
Lay down my life
With all my heart
When you think of love worth dying for
I'll be all that and more
