

It Isn't Over

Trijntje Oosterhuis

So now here we are
We've drifted apart
I know your hurting just Like I do
Nights of anger and pain
Distance and blame
How words hurt so deep
And said so easily
How could this happen so silently
'Cause love has made a stranger of you and of me

When was the last time
That you looked into my eyes
That we kissed and made love all night
Tell me that it isn't over
When was the last time
I took you in my arms and cried
This is not the time to say goodbye
Tell me that it isn't over

How does it feel
Now that it's real
We said we needed time
But time ain't healing
Days pass into years
Dreams turn to fears
And the strangers moved on
No longer hiding
We share the love that we feel for our son
So I will always be a part of your life when you're gone

When was the last time
That you looked into my eyes
That we kissed and made love all night
Tell me that it isn't over
When was the last time
I took you in my arms and cried
This is not the time to say goodbye
Tell me that it isn't over

I still believe in me and you
Before we break our worlds in two
I know in my heart I can change you can change can't we just start it again

This could be the last time
That you look into my eyes
That we kiss and make love all night
Tell me that it isn't over
This could be the last time
I take you in my arms and cry
That is when we both will realize
