

One Step Away From Coming Home

Trijntje Oosterhuis

What to do around the time the sun goes down We don't leave the moonlight Sit and wait, watching time rewind You and I just ki lling time

This life is so full of nothing When all we wanna do is love Ea ch other madly but still somehow I hear you calling loud

It's getting louder, this voice in my head says a change gonna come It's getting louder, it promises us things like where we w ill go Places more beautiful, somewhere that we have never been before It's getting louder, says we're one step away from comi ng home

We're staring at the rain drops on the green grass At the other side of the doorway When we decide to go there, what will we g et Come on baby it ain't over yet

come It's getting louder, it promises us things like where we w ill go Places more beautiful, somewhere that we have never been before It's getting louder, says we're one step away from comi ng home

It's getting louder, one step away It's getting louder, one ste p away It's getting louder, whoa, yeh It's getting louder, It's getting louder, one step away

This voice in my head say a change gonna come It's getting loud er, yeah, whoa, one step away It's getting louder, one step awa y from home It's getting louder, one step away It's getting lou der, yeah, whoa It's getting louder, one step away It's getting louder, one step away It's getting louder, it's coming, yeah O ne step away, one step away.
