

Find a Way

Trisha Yearwood

The more I give you love
You tell me it's never, never, never
The more I wanna give up
You say it's much better, better, better
I have put myself together just right
So it looks good to you (I try but I'm)
I'm failing every time cause you are a mystery to me

How do I find a way to your heart
Where do you go when you're not alone
I can't find a way to your heart
Nobody knows, no, no

The more you shut me out
You see me come runnin', runnin', runnin'
The more I turn it around
You say you got nothin', nothin', nothin'
You're a model of experience
I see you have been here before (every time)
Somebody else believin' this guy's
Gonna change just for me

How do I find a way to your heart
Where do you go when you're not alone
I can't find a way to your heart
Nobody knows, nobody knows
How do I find a way to your heart (heart, heart)
Where do you go when you're not alone
I can't find a way to your heart (heart, heart)
Nobody knows, nobody knows (my baby yeah)

When you look at me, the sun is out and it feels so good
Then you forget about me, and it feels so cold
And it feels so cold (nobody knows)

How do I find a way to your heart (heart, heart)
Where do you go when you're not alone
I can't find a way to your heart (heart, heart)
Nobody knows, nobody knows
How do I find a way to your heart (heart, heart)
Where do you go, where do you go, oh
Find a way to your heart (heart, heart)
Nobody knows, nobody knows
