One In a Row

Trisha Yearwood

If you can truthfully say That you've been true just one day Well that makes one in a row One in a row, one in a row

And if you can look into my eyes One time without telling lies Well that makes one in a row One in a row, one in a row

Why do I keep lovin' you After all the things you do? And just one time Come into my arms And be glad that you're in my arms Well that makes one in a row One in a row, one in a row

Why do I keep lovin' you After all the things you do? And just one time Come into my arms And be glad that you're in my arms Well that makes one in a row One in a row, one in a row
