

Second Chance

Trisha Yearwood

What do you do when love comes along
And offers your heart a chance to move on
With no guarantees, no safety net?
You trust what you feel, you take that first step

Just close your eyes
Reach for the moment before it slips by
Here is your second chance
Take it and fly

The weight of the world, the need to survive
Has made you believe that you've got no right
Then out of the blue you meet someone
Who offers a place warm as the sun

Just close your eyes
Reach for the moment before it slips by
Here is your second chance
Take it and fly

Just when you think
Love is a distant dream
Oh, oh, oh
Fate gives you wings

Just close your eyes
Reach for the moment before it slips by
Here is your second chance
Take it and fly
