Too Much Thinking

Child or tomorrow Painful is today Fathom if you can Burning bridges, concrete and clay

Lighting candles Searching in the night For a voice of reason In the age of wrong am I right?

Modern visions Portray just society Will it be righteous in time?

Too much, too much thinkin' Yes I know Too much thinkin' Tryin' to understand

Try and steal away Each and everyone Contemplate the madness Before the deed is done

See tomorrow coming Shake the hand of fate Mirror, mirror on the wall Is it all too late

Prophets of doom Fearful of the violence Preaching to no one at all

Too much, too much thinkin' Yes, I know Too much thinkin' Tryin' to understand

Child or tomorrow Painful is today Fathom if you can Burning bridges, concrete and clay

See tomorrow coming Shake the hand of fate Mirror, mirror on the wall Is it all too late

Modern visions Portray just society Will it be righteous in time?

Too much, too much thinkin' Yes I know Too much thinkin' Tryin' to understand

Triumph

Too much, too much thinkin' Yes I know Too much thinkin' Tryin' to understand

Too much thinkin'
