

Rise Above the Tides

Trivium

She'd rather let the ocean take her inside it's wake
Let the water fill her lungs like the air she hates to breathe
Now lost at sea

Rise, rise above the tides
The waves will pull you under if you don't fight

Slowly sinking to the bottom of the sea
I contend that there's no loss within, since she hates to breathe
Now lost at sea

The waves will pull you under if you don't fight
Rise, rise above the tides
It's over now, yourself could give up on life

We're lost forever
Lost together
We're lost forever
Lost together

She'd rather let the ocean take her inside it's wake
Let the water fill her lungs like the air she hates to breathe
Now lost at sea

I must like to be
The waves will pull you down, underneath tonight

Rise, rise above the tides
The waves will pull you under if you don't fight
Rise, rise above the tides
It's over now, yourself could give up on life
