

The Ghost That's Haunting You

Trivium

Ghosts surrounding me, they're taking shape
Awake and see them standing there

What the hell (what the hell you supposed to do)
Are you supposed to do (when the whole world is after you)
When your world (what the hell you supposed to do)
Is coming after you (when the whole world is after you)

What have I done, what have I become Standing six feet deep, am I the only one

Save, save yourself
It's killing me to have to say
You know this is the only way

Save, save yourself
There is nothing left to say or do
You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you

Apparition, read me my last rights
Can't read me into the grave
Quaint
