

The Rising

Trivium

And the earth begins to shake
A company uproaring
Anxiety growing
Cheers are leaving this moral life behind

Sweat begins to downpour
A riot we stand for
The blackout foreshadows the chaos

So raise your voices with me
And sing this song of unity
So raise your hands up with me
And hold this moment eternally

Like a rift open in the sky
Through fire pulses a lightning
While thundering sounds ring

Tempting us to leave lifes troubles behind
It's time to stick together
It's just so much better
Than life could ever offer

So raise your voices with me
And sing this song of unity
So raise your hands up with me
And hold this moment eternally

So raise your voices with me
And sing this song of unity
So raise your hands up with me
And hold this moment eternally

So raise your voices with me
And sing this song of unity
So raise your hands up with me
And hold this moment eternally

So raise your voices with me
And sing this song of unity
So raise your hands up with me
And hold this moment eternally
