Gasoline

Troye Sivan

I smell heartbreak on my hands I feel sick to my stomach as I begin to stand I see your outline in my bed In the same spot I watched him rest his head

I've done you wrong, I regret it I write this song, trying to forget it I feel this emptiness in my chest I feel surreal but im feeling stressed

I need to do something I fucked up for nothing Now I gotta just tell someone Tell someone what I've done

Please bath me now Wash me clean Just set my heart on fire Like gasoline (2x)

Oh no, like gasoline

I wake up, the morning after You call but I don't answer And I cant look you in the eye No matter how hard I try

You deserve a forever Not a boy, looking for better But as long as you're still here I will try to keep you near

Please bath me now Wash me clean Just set my heart on fire Like gasoline (5x)
