

You Can't Always Want What You Get

Tsar

I saw you on Monday, your eyes were blue
I think you're perfect the way that you are

But it's strange how you're always Takin' things so far

And I told you before in a moment alone
That you'll always mean something to me

But I might have been lyin'
I might have been lyin' through my teeth
Let's just wait and see

You can't always want what you get
And you haven't succeeded at nothing yet
But I've got better things to do
Than nullify my head

And you better come clean, woah
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah
And I'm happy now, I'm happy now, I'm happy that you opened up your
Happy now, happy now, happy that you opened up your Happy now, happy now, happy that you opened up your Happy now, happy now, happy that you opened up your mind
