

I Bought You

Tsunami Bomb

I now have the chance to meet you,
but that's a risky move.
I know I might have to surrender my preexisting idea of you.
Right now you're a stranger -
let's keep it that way.
No harm meant.
Let's keep it that way.
I'm quite content knowing that I don't know you -
I can pretend.
Let's keep it that way.
You could never understand how much you mean to me.
I don't want you going and screwing it up with your personality
I'll stay in this dark corner of the room where I can't be seen
but I can still see you.
You could be anyone.
My fantasy would be undone.
I want to continue looking up to you
