I Bought You

Tsunami Bomb

I now have the chance to meet you, but that's a risky move. I know I might have to surrender my preexisting idea of you. Right now you're a stranger let's keep it what way. No harm meant. Let's keep it that way. I'm quite content knowing that I don't know you -I can pretend. Let's keep it that way. You could never understand how much you mean to me. I don't want you going and screwing it up with your personality I'll stay in this dark corner of the room where I can't be seen but I can still see you. You could be anyone. My fantasy would be undone. I want to continue looking up to you
