

Not Telling The Truth

Tuff

It's in the way that you don't know what to say when we talk about you
And it's a sign that there's never any time when we talk about you
It takes a while but you finally crack a smile when we talk about me
I watch your eyes as they shift from side to side when we talk about me

You say you love me but your just not telling the truth
You say you need me but your just not telling the truth
You say you want me but your just not telling the truth

I watch the time, as events will fall in line as it starts to come clear Yesterday didn't happen as you say and it starts to come clear
When you said that it's all inside my head well I got confused
I thought I knew what our love was gonna do but I got so used

You say you love me but your just not telling the truth
You say you need me but your just not telling the truth
You say you want me but your just not telling the truth

And when the morning comes see I'll be gone My emotions running through
You can let the silence be your song
Let it tell you what to do

You say you love me but your just not telling the truth
You say you need me but your just not telling the truth
You say you want me but your just not telling the truth
Yeah, yeah, yeah
You say you love me but your just not telling the truth
You say you need me but your just not telling the truth
You say you want me but your just not telling the truth
