

The Days Passed

Turisas

I've sailed the seven seas,
I've climbed the mountains high,
I've crossed the endless plains,
But still the search goes on.
I've waited for so long,
For my life to begin,
I've waited for someone,
Something, to make me complete.
The sun will shine tomorrow,
Better days lie ahead.
The sun will shine tomorrow,
Don't forget!
This is a passing state,
Soon things will be as planned,
And what a relief it'll be
To put all of this behind.
One day I'll reach the top,
One day I will be free,
One day I can't stop.
Looking, start living instead.
The sun will shine tomorrow,
Better days lie ahead.
A dreadful trap so hollow.
Let it rain!
Did I ever hear the waves?
Did I ever enjoy the view?
Did I ever smell the grass?
As the days passed
Did I ever hear the waves?
Did I ever enjoy the view?
Did I ever smell the grass?
As the days passed
Don't waste your time searching for the beginning
All you'll find there is the end
Don't waste your time searching for the beginning
All you'll find there is the end
Don't waste your time searching for the beginning
All you'll find there is the end
Don't waste your time searching for the beginning
All you'll find there is the end...
