

Before The Dawn

Turning Point

They say it's always darkest
Before the dawn
It may look bad now
But I'm holding on
To what I have
And what I've earned
I refuse to let that burn
In front of my eyes
I know you think I'm not old enough
To see the wrong and right
Maybe so but I won't throw it all away
Until I gain some insight
I've stumbled and fallen down before
Again I feel myself falling
Please stop I've had enough
Stop I've had enough
