

Child With No Enemy

Twelve Foot Ninja

From the light
You emerge again
And your love will restore their faith
Your mission
Free them from the sphere of influence
Crushing everything

I create my destiny
And you will know my name
Child with no enemy
You and I will end this game

In union
The stars align
You are the one
The maker's sign
In your heart
Eternity
You have to embrace its energy

You'd love nothing more
Than see us fall
And watch us fail
Yet through it all
We shall remain

Behold the hands behind the throne
Their frequency unknown
The hands behind the throne
The calm before the storm
