

Look closely at this heart
And you'll see what you forgot
What ever happened to "just be what you want
Be what you want?"

Eat it up and breathe it in
Let it become you like it's always been
What ever happened to "just be what you want
Be what you want?"
(What you want)

Lies!
Your empire
Simple denial
Run aground

Tell me what have you got to lose?
Never too late to start again
For it is only just a means to an end
What ever happened to "just be what you want
Be what you want?"

Lies!
Your empire
Simple denial
Run aground

Tell me what have you got to lose?
(Nothing
Nothing left to lose)
Nothing left!

You, molotov brother, you'll only get burned
With all the hate, make no mistake
The flames will only get worse
For those who call me unforgivable
I'm raising the fire
And I'm too far gone to know I've gone too far

Rid this world of our solemn regrets
No, this war isn't lost, I'll declare it again
The day when you fall, when you flip and lose your mind
It's only a matter of time
