

Not A Word

Twilightning

Way too restless, in suspense
When the voices begin, all the whispers in silence, he just took it on a chin
Defense turned to violence
Laying face down on a sand, those whispers in silence
He couldn't understand... not a word
Now a word!
From the hidden moaning to a hopeless wipng screams Face down on a shoreline, it was not like how it seemed With all the passion drowning, leaving nothing but a doubt
"Soon you buried six feet under, there's nothing to talk about!"
...now a word
Clench your fist, close your eyes - be mesmerized
Hit me hard, do not miss - before the last one I'll just keep my mouth shut - till the last cut
Hit me hard, do not miss - before the last kiss
There is no one left to blame
Everything you say just makes me shiver
Abandoned drifter, now naked to the bone
Dreams feeling like the enemy
The king gave away his throne
That's not a way he chose it
That's not away he planned Still shouting, now in the dark, he just couldn't understand
... not a word
