

Caribbean War Syndrome

Twin Atlantic

Once in a while, for a few days,
We must fight amongst the brave,
Life for your sword, cause we are at war,
I always come alive, you always come to life,
Come it all, come it all and we are never going to be the same,
I always come alive, you always come to life.

If you like, if you like the caribbean,
Come and dive, there's a sea you can swim in,
Bring a knife, there's a life that you can finish,
Open up, sing along to what your fate is,
If you like, if you like the caribbean,
If you like, if you like the caribbean.

Take me away, away from my home,
Yes I love my country a decision on my own,
You gave me the choice, projection of voices,
I always come alive, you always come to life,
Come it all, come it all and I would rather just stay the same,
I always come alive, you always come to life.

Yes, we can fight the future,
Pushed in our eyes and fall asleep.

I always come alive, you always come to life,
I always come alive, you always come to life,
I always come alive, you always come to life,
I always come alive, you always come to life,
Still it always come back too,
Am i on your side,
I always come alive, you always come to life,
Still it always come back too,
Are we still alive,
I always come alive, you always come to life.

You always come to life.

This campaign is criminal, criminal scream fucking insane,
Bring me the contract, sign me up to blow these fuckers away

(Thanks to Nicky Johnston for these lyrics)