

My Future

Twinspirits

If I won't meet the desire
that burns here deep inside,
my dreams would fade.
I will never learn to fly away
if I won't find a way
to get out of these dark walls.
My soul would die,
I will never learn to live my life.

It's my future,
waiting there just in front of me.
It's my future,
screaming loud just in front of me.

All these rainy days are making me so sad.
If only I could find a place to warm my heart.
Time is passing by, the crucial day gets near
and I'm still here, to fight against my fears.

Time is passing by the point of no return,
if only I could find a light inside my mind.
I know that it's there, hidden deep inside.
I must find a way to let it out and let it shine in front of me.

It's my future,
waiting there just in front of me.
It's my future,
screaming loud just in front of me.

My mind is blowing away
and I can't stand this unbearable pain.
Another day is dying so fast,
another star is going to fall,
but my dreams still stand.
I need to get away from here.

Here's my future, in front of me...
