

The Forbidden City

Twinspirits

Another day spent on my own, and I've got nothing to look for - everything's here inside these walls, inside my small safe world.

Everyone takes good care of me, I really don't need to be free. But sometimes I think: how would it be if I'll ever need to fly away from this forbidden city? Away from this forbidden city.

I will always live inside my safe world. I'm fine! I just don't care! I just don't care...

Trust me - you'll be fine! I'm here. I'll never let you down. Call me! When you'll need to fight, I'm here. I'll keep my hands on your life.

Hidden inside yourself you keep the desire to improve your self-esteem. But if you don't express it, how can you learn to fly away from this forbidden city? From this forbidden city... Away, from this forbidden city.

If you don't express the desire you hide, you won't learn to fly away. You'll always live in your safe world. You won't learn! You won't learn!

If you show your keen desire, you'll learn how to fly away. If you yield to his sick mind, you won't learn to fly away.

Stop this crawling, take a stand, start opposing his command.