

They tend to misunderstand the paper man
With scissor hands who watches the hourglass for grains of sand
To fall and fall again as he pretends
That everything he lays his hands on doesn't turn to shreds
But why oh why does he persist to hide
When they insist he try to come outside
From the shell he lives inside
Now he's been hypnotized and Despite the lies he sits and waits to die
'Cause he can't find no words to explain the rain
All his emotions are transformed and now become pain
He's alive in a black hole empty in space
And he sits in front of the mirror and he's face to face
With the sadness, confusion his patience he's losing He's substance abusing he's one with the music
And he needs a little something to dial it all back 'Cause he's running in a race but he's not on track

Love don't live here anymore, it's been cold since you went away
Now I've been trying to get myself together, is there something I can say th
at'll make you stay
Love don't live here anymore, it's been cold since you went away
I've been trying to get my head together, but things just don't seem to go m y way

All I see when I'm looking at you is me
And everyday gets a little bit harder
Like a piece of my life's puzzle has been slipped under the carpet
Until this day I'm feeling like I'm never gonna find it
I smoke a cigarette and hope for the best
But sometimes that cigarette is just smoke in the chest and I lay in bed
But it's nothing to do with getting rest instead I use it as an escape from all the mess
Nothing seems to matter I'm only getting sadder n sadder
'Cause I'm not even sure what I'm after I know my life's a disaster and I better straighten it out
And stand tall or fall victim of getting caught in A spiraling downfall of emotion that I call Devotion and destruction of everything and it's my fault
I'm hoping to try more let's open up my door
And let em know that I'm bringing me back like encore

Love don't live here anymore, it's been cold since you went away
Now I've been trying to get myself together, is there something I can say th
at'll make you stay
Love don't live here anymore, it's been cold since you went away
I've been trying to get my head together, but things just don't seem to go m y way

I'm an example of a bad example and as ample as it may seem
A sample of this poisonous apple. I may be riding a daydream
But I'm giving you reality checks and if you get it then it's properly spent
If you can't handle it yet gimme a sec
I'll make ya proud of me instead of surrounding me
Totally hounding me expecting me to be like all the rest
And I gotta be honest I'm not sure who the fuck I am on a constant basis
So many faceless faces that I'm faced with

Who the fuck am I, What a shame it's Not so much the lies I'm just lost in my mind
Trying to find what it is that makes me feel right inside
And I'm submerged by the urge to make it by day and night
I'm in the struggle looking to fight for the right
To be more than just alright...
And I'm looking for more lies so I can see what the God stole for my life!

Love don't live here anymore, it's been cold since you went away
Now I've been trying to get myself together, is there something I can say th
at'll make you stay
Love don't live here anymore, it's been cold since you went away
I've been trying to get my head together, but things just don't seem to go m y way
Ohhhooohhhooohhh
Love can be so cold...
