

Crow Jane

Two Gallants

Well now Crow Jane don't make no sense to me
She left me hanging from the papa tree
No I never ever felt so free
Look at, mama, what you're doin' to me
Cuz it ain't no difference which way I smile
I ain't good lookin' from a quarter mile
Once had a woman called me angel child
My reputation keeps me on track

But who's gonna save me from myself
Gotta lay the blame on someone else
Somehow I ain't got no hope
Cuz I'm still runnin' from the sheriff's rope
My shoes don't fit me cuz they filled with do(ugh/pe?)
Crow Jane quit me and I just can't cope
But all I know is that I'll still run
And pledge allegiance to the settin' sun
I must've lost miss Crow Jane
I'll never learn from anything I've done

Crow Jane's the strangest thing that ever talked Lips of honey but of tongues of chalk
They may be crooked but sure can walk
Took my money left me in shock
Got so many matches that it makes me sick
So many habits that I just can't kick
So many women that I just can't trick
She burnt like a candle stick

But who's gonna save me from myself?
Gotta lay the blame on somebody else
But somehow I ain't got no hope
Cuz I'm still runnin' from the sheriff's rope
My shoes don't fit me cuz they filled with do(ugh/pe?)
Crow Jane quit me and I just can't cope
But all I know is that I'll still run
And pledge allegiance to the settin' sun
I must've lost miss Crow Jane
I'll never learn from anything I've done

Well Crow Jane ain't nothing but a painful case
She left me sucking on my own disgrace
She's off trucking at a cheatin' pace
And a lawless life is all that I can embrace
Dress like a preacher so I can't be found
Chase Crow Jane from town to town
I smell her brain so she much be around
Just like my pain the sun goes down

But who's gonna save me from myself
Gotta lay the blame on someone else
Somehow I ain't got no hope
Cuz I'm still runnin' from the sheriff's rope
My shoes don't fit me cuz they filled with do(ugh/pe?)
Crow Jane quit me and I just can't cope
But all I know is that I'll still run
And pledge allegiance to the settin' sun

I must've lost miss Crow Jane
I'll never learn from anything I've done