The Only Way I Know

Ty Herndon

In a world where love is found and lost so easily I'm so thankful I share my life with you All around you hear the sound of faithless poetry Oh I won't lie, that's something I won't do

There must be a million words to whisper soft and low There must be a million ways, I could let my feelings show But loving you with all my heart and never letting go That's the only way, the only way I know

Maybe I will never say everything I feel Even so, you'll always know the truth And in the silence of a touch every word is real As long as I live that's what I give to you

There must be a million words to whisper soft and low There must be a million ways, I could let my feelings show But loving you with all my heart and never letting go That's the only way, the only way I know Oh, that's the only way, the only way I know

That's the only way That's the only way, the only way I know That's the only way That's the only way, the only way I know
