

Closer Than My Breath

tyDi

closer than my breath
gentle force pushing me forward

gentle force pushing me forward

closer than my breath
gentle force pushing me forward

destined to finish, whatever has begun. this is not the end where to put my foot next? should I run?

still I put one foot in front of the other I have to live what I've begun there is no lie in the truth I am better than this so I keep walking into the light till I can find-a place that's out of sight where I can rest

I don't want to lie this time
I dont want to lie this time
I'm leaving them to they're own corrosion

I don't want to lie this time
I dont want to lie this time they're drowning in they're own emotion

I don't want to lie this time
I dont want to lie this time
I'm leaving them to they're own corrosion

I don't want to lie this time
I dont want to lie this time
they're drowning in they're own emotion
