She

Tygers of Pan Tang

She, waits for him - Prays for him To call again He, a foolish man - Without a plain Has lost his way She knows the way - The game to play The way to win Silently he can't see - It's gonna be His greatest sin

Oh! You never though you could let her go Oh! Beware you do there's something more you should know

You never see it coming - It comes out of the blue You hit the ground - She'll break your heart in two Suddenly it's over - Can't believe (It's true) (You're thru) She is with another - She breaks your heart in two

He walks alone, leaving home without a care She dims the lights, pours the wine combs her hair He knows the way, he's been before, he's wanting more Silently she can't see, what will be is what will be
