Ain't No Fooling Me

Tyler Hilton

Said look at the girl No you don't know anything Walking through my door Yeah you use your curves to get you anything I've seen your game before Like a south bound train Yeah you're always going down Any fool can see You've got a pretty face When you blow me kisses But you ain't fooling me You ain't fooling me

Cause you're all talk But hit me with your best shot I know that it's all a lie Don't mistake me as one for giving sympathy Sugar now you're out of time And I've already read your mind Cause there ain't no fooling me

Rich man poor man don't really matter Any way you get paid. Put yourself in ice It's like walking on water But sugar I ain't afraid Cause you ain't fooling me

Cause you're all talk But hit me with your best shot I know that it's all a lie Don't mistake me as one for giving sympathy Sugar now you're out of time And I've already read your mind Cause there ain't no fooling me No there ain't no fooling me

Somewhere underneath that halo There's a devil hiding from the truth They say that it takes one to know And that's why I see a part of me in you Woaah, yeah

Cause you're all talk But hit me with your best shot I know that it's all a lie Don't mistake me as one for giving sympathy Sugar now you're out of time And I've already read your mind Cause there ain't no fooling me No there ain't no fooling me No there ain't no fooling me No there ain't No there ain't No there ain't No fooling me, fooling me
