Pink And Black

Tyler Hilton

So, yea, you said you heard this one Maybe lived it twice But with bias on my side

I swear I've got a different one To be laid to line And with a dime for your advice

You never saw a man Make a fist and grab so fast he said

Good luck you know you better just forget it Cause love is never in the same place that you left it

I said you wouldn't understand This was long-term love She was perfectly described

And what she wore when we last met It was pink and black A study in scarlet up inside

You never saw a man With bigger eyes that understand He said

Good luck you know you better just forget it Cause love is never in the same place that you left it

You never saw a man With bigger eyes that understand He said

Good luck you know you better go and get it Cause love is never in the same place if you left it

He said good luck you know you better go and get her Cause love is never in the same place if you left her
