

All I'm Thinking Of

Tyrone Wells

Call me on the phone
Call me anytime you like
When you need me you know I'll come running, running
Tell me how you feel and I will
Listen til I understand you
Let the worry roll right off your chest

I am on your side
And you're forever mine
There's no other love
You're all I'm thinking of

When I have to go and you're feeling all alone
Know that when I'm gone I'm only waiting waiting
Just to see your brown eyes light up
When you see me walking in
When I run my fingers down your skin

When I said those words to you
I swore that I would see this through
And nothing in the world could change
Promise I have made
