The Most

Tyrone Wells

I spun the world around Said "anywhere you want to choose" Just put your finger down And I will fly away with you

Now we're on the wind And the storm begins You're scared of the dark horizon But don't be afraid to fall I'll be here..

When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most when you need me, need me the most I'm always here for you, no you are not alone When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most

Midnight I'm fast asleep 2,000 miles away from you you're crying as you bleed You wake me up and break the news

how do you start again when the whole world ends there's nothing that makes this right but I'm on my way tonight I'll be here

When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most when you need me, need me the most I'm always here for you, no you are not alone When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most

Any time, every time

When you're on the wind And the storm begins Don't be afraid to call I'll be here

When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most I'm always here for you, No matter how it goes When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most

When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most I'm always here for you, No you are not alone When you need me, when you need me, when you need me the most Tištěno z www.txp.cz Sponzor: www.srovnavac.
