

Hammerhead

Tysondog

There's a place we can go, Can't you see it, don't you know
Cause it's rising up just like heaven
I can see thru smiles
Of a face worn thru time
Say farewell, I see your pointed face of jealousy shine thru
The hate behind cold eyes the cause I never knew.

And from a place not beyond our own
The wolves of hades protect now your throne
And now you wait for the birth of a child
Infernal offspring to carry the line

The seeds are sown & the righteous cry shame
The thunder roars now in heaven
The mark of the Hammerhead is in your soul
Now you'll see, I see the pointed face of jealousy shine thru
The hate behind cold eyes the cause I never knew

The pain of years pulsates thru my brain
My mind is tired I can't see thru the rain
But I will fight till my last breath
I'll make my peace & I'll never fear death
I still remember, The blood on his hands
