

Painted Heroes

Tysondog

Words of anger scream in my head
But I can't think straight my mind is dead
The words you've spoken cut like a knife
So many times I've lived this life

Don't take it all away

Fight the tide back turn & run
I know I'm not the only one
So much is different so much has changed
But things can never stay the same

Don't take it all away

Painted hero's stand cold in command
Faceless warriors lie dead in the sand
Killer legions lay waste to the land
Marching south to the house of the damned

I see clearly but you're so blind
An honest face is hard to find
I've walked alone, I've walked with men
But I may never walk again

Don't take it all away
