Too Young to Know

Well, I've stuck out in your street And I'm lookin' for some kind of halo When somebody says to me, hey boy She's too young to no no Well, I didn't make your time I never said you were mine Don't you think you show so I Guess I'll have to teach you how to roll Met you outside school When sure no one was lookin' And your teacher looks at me All his envy growin' Well, I didn't make your time I never said you were mine Don't you think you show so I Guess I'll have to teach you how to roll I said, take it easy baby You sure know what's showin' And I can't help myself Without your friends all knowin' Well, I didn't make your time I never said you were mine Don't you think you show so I Guess I'll have to teach you how to roll Well, I didn't make your time I never said you were mine Don't you think you show so I Guess I'll have to teach you how to roll You got a long, long way to go