

Cut Deep Eternally

Ultimatum

At the gates to the beyond
Looking down the red horizon
I see the northern star
It wakes up memories in my heart

I still remember when you and I Walked this shore, your hand in mine

I only hope that you're alive...alive
'cause now I'm here, without you by my side

You will always linger, in my mind
Your memory will live
Your picture will not leave my heart
It's cut so deep it will be eternal

Someday I'll touch you again
Far beyond this life
If I could fly above my pain
I'd give my wings to hold you for a while

If I could fly far beyond high above my pain
I might meet my white winged angel my savior someday

Why did you have to leave so soon?
(In the morning dew)
I'm left here walking this beach without a clue
